Louisville at Milwaukee. Columbus at Minneapolis. Toledo at St. Paul.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 14 .- No matter how long the lead may be against them, no game is safe as long as the Hoosiers have an inning at bat. This has been demonstrated in nearly every game that Indianapolis has played here and to-day was no exception, Watkins' team nearly snatching away the victory from the Blues after it looked cinched for the locals. When the ninth inning rolled around the Blues were three runs in front and it looked easy, but with that never-give-up spirit, the Hoosiers went in and it was only by the narrowest margin that Kansas City held its victory, the score being 5 to 4.

The final spurt was started by Coulter's hit to left and Knoll letting the ball go between his legs, advanced the runner to second. Jones then came up and cracked out a double to center and Coulter chased swipes at Durham's foolers without a connection, but Marcan came to the rescu with a double to center and Jones scored. This put the visitors only one run behind when Woodruff came up to hit for Ford. Marcan was leading off second and Woodruff slammed a liner at McAndrews. It was man had his troubles in handling it, but and the game came to an end with Marcan turning third for home.

Durham was primarily the cause of the Hoosiers' defeat and his support outside of the third inning was fast and sharp. The Indianapolis team found him for only three hits up to the ninth inning and one of these was a scratchy single by Hogriever.

Ford allowed the Blues to bunch hits on him when drives meant runs. The Hoos- Boston70 iers for the most part gave him good support, the game being won by clean batting. Indianapolis made a couple of runs in the third on Tamsett's pass, Hogriever's infield hit, McAndrews's wild throw at the plate to catch Tamsett and Knoll's muff of Three hits, two singles and a double, gave Kansas City two as a starter in the second, and a pass, single and Marcan's wild throw to first on Grady's grounder added another to the local's credit in the fifth. The last two came in the seventh on a pass, two sacrifices, Nance's infield hit and Knoll's triple. Score:

GOVERNMENT CLERKS WORRIED.

All May Lose Saturday Early Closing Privilege During Summer.

Washington Special. The government clerks at Washington are much exercised over the prospect of osing the early closing privilege on Saturdays during the summer. For some years past it has been the custom to close the executive departments at 3 o'clock on Saturdays during the months of July, August and September. This year the early closing scheme was started as usual, but some one in the Navy or the War Department found that there was a statute prohibiting Cabinet officers from curtailing the regular working hours of clerks. This was promptly brought to the attention of Secretaries Moody and Root, and the clerks in those departments will have to keep at their desks until 4 o'clock every day in the week. There is great lamentation among the employes at this declaration, but however desirous Messrs. Moody and Root may be to let the clerks out at 3 o'clock there seems to be no provision of law to authorize it. It is thought that the heads of other executive departments will follow the lead of Secretaries Moody and Root. Some one counted up the other day the Two-base hit-Clarke. Three-base hit-Ry- | time it is possible for a government clerk an. Bases on balls-Off Orth, 4. The Iron Pillar of Delhi.

Cassier's Magazine. The famous iron pillar of Delhi, India, is a solid shaft of wrought iron, sixteen inches in diameter, and of a length that is variously reported. The total height above ground is twenty-two feet, including a capital of 31/2 feet. Major G. A. Cunningham, R. E., C. S. I., director general of the archaeological survey of India, reported in 1863 that the total length of the pillar is upwards of forty-eight feet, and possibly The lower diameter is 6.4 inches and the upper diameter 13.5 inches. The pillar contains about eighty cubic feet of metal and weighs about seventeen tons. The metal was for a long time reputed to be bronze. owing probably to a curious yellowish shade on the upper part. A sample from near the base was analyzed by Dr. Murry Thompson, and found to be pure malleable iron of 7.66 specific gravity. The metal is, of course, charcoal iron, made directly from the ore in small billets, but how it was welded up no one can tell, as no record exists of any early method of dealing with great masses of wrought iron. An inscription, roughly cut or punched upon the column, states that Rajah Dhara subdued a people in the Surdhu, named Vahlikos, and obtained with his own arm an undivided sovereignty on the earth for a long period. The date of the inscription has been referred to the third or fourth century after Christ; but on this authorities are at variance, as the style of writing is supposed by some to belong to a later

According to tradition, the iron pillar was erected by Blian Deo, the founder of the Tomara dynasty, who was assured by a learned Brahmin that, as a part of the pillar had been driven so deep into the ground that it rested on the head of Vasuki, King of Serpents, who supports the earth, it was now immovable, and that dominion would remain in his family as long as the pillar stood. The rajah, doubting the truth of the Brahmin's statement, ordered the pillar to be dug up, when the foot was found to be wet with the blood of the serpent king. Washington Park Prize Won by Lons-The pillar was again raised, but, owing to the rajah's increduity, no means could he found to fix it firmly, and it remained loose (dhila) in the ground, and this is said

Hot Milk as a Stimulant.

New England Farmer. Hot milk is an admirable stimulant. Dealing with this well-known fact the Lancet states that milk, heated too much, above 100 degrees F., loses for a time a degree of sweetness and density. No one who, fatigued by overexertion of body or mind, has ever experienced the reviving influence of a tumbler of this beverage, heated as hot as it can be sipped, will willingly forego a resort to it because of its being rendered somewhat less acceptable to the palate The promptness with which its cordial influence is felt is indeed surprising. Some portion of it seems to be digested almost immediately, and many who now fancy they need alcoholic stimulants when exhausted by fatigue will find in this draught an equivalent that will be abundantly satisfying and far more enduring in its effects. This should be taken note of by all
